SOLAR AND LUNAR ECLIPSES,

IN THE YEAR 1831.

There will be Four Eclipses this year: two of the Sun, and two of the Moon. 1217015

The first will be a greater eclipse of the Sun, than has happened in the United States, since the year 1806, on the 12th of February. If the atmosphere should be clear, it is probable that several of the fixed stars will be seen. The planet Venus 12 deg. 45 min. east, and Jupiter 11 deg. 30 min. west of the Sun will also appear very brilliant.

| As seen from Hartford, visibility begins | H. | M. | |
|---|---|---|---|
| February the 12th, at - - | 11 | 16 | A. M. |
| Ingress of Moon's centre upon sun's face, | 0 | 03 | P. M. |

| Duration of the eclipse on Sun's centre, | 1 | 03 | |

Digits eclipsed, 11 deg. 28 min. on the Sun's southern limb.

In North and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Tennessee, Louisiana, &c. this eclipse will be annular—a beautiful annulus or ring of the Sun appearing all around the dark body of the Moon at the middle of the eclipse.

At the town of Charlle, in North Carolina, it will be central and annular on the meridian, Lon. 81deg. 29 min. West, and Lat. 35 deg. 5 min. North.

The second will be of the Moon, February 26th, at 11h. 58m. in the forenoon, therefore invisible.

The third will be of the Sun, August 7th, ♌ at 5h. 11m. afternoon, invisible at Hartford, the Sun having great South Latitude.

The fourth will be of the Moon, August 23d, beginning at 3h. 48m. P. M. partly visible.

USEFUL REMARKS.

There is nothing requires so strict an economy as our benevolence. We should husband our means, as the agriculturist his manure, which, if he spread over too large a superfices, produces no crop, if over too small a surface, exuberates in rankness and weeds. Lacon.

Every virtue carried to excess, approaches its kindred vice.

Amusement is the happiness of those who cannot think. Pope.

No man ever did a designed injury to another, without doing a greater to himself.

Nothing more easy than to do mischief; nothing more difficult than to suffer without complaining.

USEFUL REMARKS.

When dunces call us fools without proving us to be so, our best retort is to prove them to be fools without condescending to call them so. Lacon.

The want of due consideration is the cause of all the unhappiness a man brings upon himself. Sir P. Sidney.

Men fear death through ignorance, as children fear the dark. Bacon.

USEFUL REMARKS.

Happiness is less valued when we possess it, than when we have lost it.

Life is short; it cannot afford time for enmities.

Remember that it makes a fault worse, to try to conceal it.

The man whose word can always be depended upon, is sure to be always honoured.

USEFUL REMARKS.

The best practical rule for morality is, never to do any thing which you would be unwilling that all the world should know.

The advantage of living does not consist in length of days, but in the right improvement of them. Montaigne.

Fortune, like the milky way, is a cluster of small, twinkling, nameless virtues. Bacon.

USEFUL REMARKS.

Since custom is the powerful magistrate of man's life, let men, by all means, endeavour to obtain good customs.

He that follows his recreation instead of his business, shall in a little time have no business to follow.

There is no condition that does not sit well upon a wise man.

The labouring man, in the present age, if he does but read, has more helps to wisdom, than Solomon had.

USEFUL REMARKS.

Order in affairs is one of the things on which a man's success in life most especially depends. The rules of order are mostly summed up in these two precepts :—

I. A place for every thing ; and every thing in its place.
II. A time for every thing ; and every thing in its time.
That pleasure only is according to nature which never cloys.

USEFUL REMARKS.

It is shameful for a man to live as a stranger in his own country, and to be uninformed of her affairs and interests....Manutius.

Nothing can constitute good breeding that has not good nature for its foundation.

We are always clever with those who believe we think as they do.

It is not in our stars, but in ourselves, that we are underlings.

NOTE.....Towns marked thus * do not hold their Annual Town Meeting until after the publication of this Register; on this account we have inserted the names of the officers of 1830.

No returns have been received from Towns left blank; and we have preferred leaving them entirely out, than to insert the names of officers of 1828–9. In some Towns no returns have been received for three years; and in others when the Town Meeting was held on the 1st of October, through negligence or indifference, the returns have been delayed beyond the publication of this Register, or too late for insertion.

19. PICTURE OF THE WORLD.

The foregoing Geography contains 320 large, and close ly printed pages 18 mo., and one hundred and fifty origina Engravings, designed to illustrate the text, being a mor complete system than any now in use, for schools.—Th plan of the author can be more fully seen by the followin extracts from the Preface:

"The author of the present volume is aware that the are now before the public, several excellent systems school geography. He is ready to do full justice to th works of Worcester, Morse, Woodbridge and others. Th larger work by Mr. Woodbridge and Mrs. Willard, doubtless the most elaborate and scientific treatise on geo raphy, that has ever been compiled for the purposes of ed cation. Still there seems to be room for improvement.- New and more enlightened views as to the proper metho of instruction, have recently been promulged. The scho astic system of teaching principles in the first place ar particulars afterwards, is now nearly exploded; and th more natural method of teaching particulars first, and ge eral views afterwards, is universally admitted to be be adapted to elementary education.

"The author has therefore undertaken to construct work on this plan, generally called inductive. The con mon method of teaching geography, requires the feeble i tellect of childhood, with a small stock of ideas, and a ve limited vocabulary of words, immediately to grasp the sol system; a task which demands the energy of a matu mind. It then proceeds in the attempt to make the pup before he knows the world in detail, embrace its vast ci cumference. with its continents, oceans, rivers, seas, kin doms, empires and states, in one grand view. A sing glance is sufficient to satisfy us, that in this way we requi of the pupil what he is unable to perform.

"In the present work the course is reversed. The pu is made to begin with the spot where he lives; he is call upon to describe first the place and the objects which ha been familiar to him from infancy. He is then led to th adjacent towns, and in the next place, is made acquaint with his native state and native country. Thus initiate e is taught the use of maps, and is made to trace upon hem the various physical and political divisions of the globe.

"Being familiarized with maps, acquainted with the hape of the globe, and possessing a few elementary ideas, ie takes a more particular survey of the individual states vhich compose the Union, and of the United States as a ation. He is made minutely acquainted with the face of he country, soil, climate, productions and animals, and he political and religious institutions of his native land. He is now supposed to be qualified to enter upon the survey f foreign countries. Accordingly he proceeds to the dif-erent parts of the American continent, and afterwards to Europe, Africa, Asia, and the islands of the Pacific.

"The advantages of this method may be illustrated by naking one comparison, between the present work and hose in common use. In the latter, before the pupil is told ny thing of his own state or country, he is presented with general view of the American continent. Before he nows the language of geography, he is expected to com-prehend at a glance one of the four quarters of the globe. t is clear that this is a task beyond his ability. The pu-il has no ideas answering to the words presented to his ye. He may learn the page by rote, but it is a mechan-cal effort, in which the understanding takes no part.

"In the present work, the general view of America is not given till the pupil has been made acquainted with all its parts in detail. When it is given, he is therefore perfectly able to comprehend the force of the language, to follow the train of thought, and thus receive real instruction.

"Such is a brief sketch of the leading peculiarity of this work. The simplicity of the principle upon which it is bounded, cannot require illustration; the benefits to be deri-ved from it would seem to be no less obvious. This natural method of proceeding from ideas that a child possesses, gradually to communicate others of easy comprehension, has the double advantage of facility to the pupil and teach-er, and of making the former thoroughly understand what-ever is attempted to be taught. Thus if we begin with a village or town in which the pupil resides, and with which he is in some measure acquainted, and thence lead him to the adjacent towns, and finally over his native State, and native country, all of which must be in a greater or less degree familiar to him, it is obvious that every step of his progress is natural. His advance is rapid, because it is easy, and agreeable. It is sure, because the gradual ascent in the scale of knowledge, does not call upon him to achieve what he cannot perform—to comprehend words and forms of speech, for which as yet he has no ideas.

"It is proper to remark, that although the author designates his plan as inductive, yet he has endeavored not to be the slave of system. He has written with the pupil constantly present to his imagination, and has therefore, in some instances, sacrificed theoretical consistency, to what was deemed of greater practical utility.

"The author has not confined his attempts at improvement, to arrangement only. He believes that most of the school geographies in use, are so compendious as necessarily to fail of their object. The few brief words they bestow upon the description of a country, seem to be insufficient to convey any distinct picture of it. The terms used are necessarily very general, and while they render the study uninteresting, they actually furnish the pupil with very few clear ideas. The author has attempted to remedy this defect by more copious details, by a freer, and in some cases a more familiar style, and by presenting subjects calculated to excite the interest and fix the attention of youth.

"The pictures in the volume are all from original designs, and were drawn under the direction of the author.—They are designed to convey instruction, and the pupil is to recite from them, as from the maps."

EXAMPLE: [See Geog. page 24.] The engraving is under the head of ZONES AND CLIMATES; and the following are specimens of the author's manner of treating these subjects:—

"The following cut presents a scene in the torrid zone; the people are poorly clothed, the land is but partially tilled, the houses are mean, and wild beasts dispute the dominion of the soil, with the inhabitants.—Yet melons, oranges, lemons, figs, pine apples, cocoanuts, spices, and other delicious productions, abound in these regions."

From the GENERAL VIEW OF NEW ENGLAND. [See page 45.]—The engraving below points out some of the characteristics of New ngland. The vessel shows that the people are extensively engaged in mmerce. The man ploughing, intimates that agriculture is a consid- able object of pursuit. The large building is a manufactory, and shows at manufactures are extensive. The persons in the foreground, rep- sent emigrants, and illustrate the disposition of the people to migrate other parts of the country."

"CONNECTICUT. [See page 38.] The public institutions in Connecticut are numerous and valuable. Yale College at New-Haven, is one of the most eminent literary establishments in the Union. Washington College, at Hartford, is a new, but flourishing seminary, the buildings of which are elegant, and finely situated.

"The Asylum for the Deaf and Dumb at Hartford, by means of which an unfortunate class of persons are restored to society, and made capable of reading, writing, and conversing, is one of the most interesting institutions in the country. It was the first of the kind established in America, and the Principal, Mr. Gallaudet, with the aid of Mr. Clerc, a deaf and dumb professor, is entitled to the credit, of having been chiefly instrumental in its foundation. The foregoing picture exhibits a view of the Asylum in the back-ground; in the fore-ground are some deaf and dumb pupils, with one of their teachers. He is addressing them by signs."

"New-Haven and Hartford, of nearly equal size, are the alternate places of meeting for the State Legislature. New-Haven, situated at the head of a small bay that sets up about 4 miles from Long Island Sound, is not excelled in beauty by any town in the United States. It is a place of considerable commerce, and possesses many handsome public and private buildings. Its churches, in particular, are beautiful; and the new State House, is a chaste and imposing specimen of architecture. Population 10,653. The engraving gives a view of a part of the town, embracing the College buildings.

"In the atlas, beside the ordinary maps, several new ones will be found. The map of the Atlantic Ocean, its islands and shores, and the map of the Pacific Ocean, its islands and coasts, are of such obvious importance, that we can hardly fail to wonder that they have never been used before. The polar projection of the northern and southern hemispheres, the comparative chart of countries, islands, oceans, seas, and lakes, the engraved picture of the world, are all peculiar to this work, and it is thought will be found useful auxiliaries.

"As to the materials, they have been chiefly drawn from Malte-Brun, as stated in the title page. This author stands pre-eminent among modern Geographers. His copious and philosophical work, is worthy of far higher commendation, than can be implied in making it the basis of so humble a compilation as this.

Boston, 1830."

And through the whole book, the cuts are designed to illustrate the text, and to convey information by visible images, the most forcible of all language. They are not like the cuts in most Geographies, selected from other books with little reference to the subjects treated of, but at great expense have been designed by eminent artists, expressly for the present work.

In the SUGGESTIONS TO TEACHERS, which follow the Preface, the author's plan is more fully unfolded; their length will not admit of their being introduced in an advertisement. Instructers are respectfully invited to examine the work, and particularly the suggestions, in which they will find much which will assist them in teaching the science of Geography.

AN INTRODUCTION TO THE MALTE-BRUN SCHOOL GEOGRAPHY, OR

PETER PARLEY'S

METHOD OF TEACHING GEOGRAPHY TO CHILDREN.

Illustrated with nine copper-plate maps, and 75 engravings, for the use of Primary and Infant Schools.

This little book has been highly recommended by the periodicals of the day. Indeed, no further evidence is needed of its great popularity and usefulness in schools, than that the public have called for six large editions in little more than one year.

The Journal of Education says,

This work is well calculated to answer the purpose for which it is written, viz. to teach the first steps in Geography. Such a work is much wanted, there being no one, either expressly designed for, or suited to this end. There are several valuable works for more advanced scholars, but none that is calculated to help the child easily and agreeably over the somewhat difficult grounds which lie between the primary reading lessons, and this popular and useful portion of juvenile study.

TO THE PUBLIC.

AN ANNUAL REGISTER, embracing all the information necessary, relating to this State, and generally to the United States, has always been deemed useful to every profession, and class of men. It should be as extensive in its contents, as the nature of the subject and the price of the work will admit—so that every family may be furnished with this condensed and convenient Record. For many years, GREEN'S REGISTER was the only one printed in this State, and one of the first printed in the Union; but within a few years past, another has been issued at Hartford, and it has been thought by the Editors of both, that by uniting them and applying their joint labors to compile one only, the work might be made more accurate, and its contents more extensive. They have, therefore, united in this the ONLY REGISTER published in this State, and they trust, from the amount of information it contains, and the low price at which it is afforded, it will meet with increased approbation and patronage.

As the publishers of such a work, must necessarily depend on their friends to furnish many articles it contains; such, especially, as are drawn from every town and village in the State, they would, after tendering them their thanks for past favors, respectfully request a continuance of their aid; and as the contents of such a work necessarily varies every year, and should be issued at the commencement of each year, they will thank those who thus contribute to the Register, to forward their communications as early as the information they give can be obtained.

☞ To find the interest of any particular sum for any certain time, multiply the sum by the number of months, take one half of the product, and you will find the two right hand figures to be cents—the remainder, on the left hand are dollars, which is the answer. If there be cents, in the sum, after you have multiplied as above, you will find the two right hand figures to be fractions, the two next, cents, and the remainder in dollars.

VALUE OF GOLD COINS CONSIDERED AS BULLION.

American and Foreign Gold, being considered as Bullion, an estimate of its value may be made by calculating its worth at the following rates, being the standard valuation by the government to regulate the currency of foreign gold, in the United States, in conformity to Acts of Congress, passed 29th of April, A. D. 1816.

AMERICAN, ENGLISH AND PORTUGUESE GOLD.

The Gold Coin of America, Great Britain and Portugal, are all of the same standard, and are valued at 88 89 and 100 cents to the Dwt. or at 27 grs. to the dollar; or

| | Dwts. | Grs. |
|---|---|---|
| The weight of one dollar is | 1 | 03 |
| do. 500 dollars | 562 | 12 |
| do. 10,000 dollars | 11,250 | 00 |

FRENCH GOLD.

The Gold Coin of France is valued at 87 1-4 cents the dwt. or 27 1-2 grains to the dollar; therefore

| | | Dwts. | Grs. |
|---|---|---|---|
| The weight of | $1 00, is | 1 | 04 |
| do. | 500 00, is | 573 | 07 |
| do. | 10,000 00, is | 11,461 | 08 |

SPANISH GOLD.

This coin is valued, agreeably to Acts of Congress at 84 cents to the dollar, or at 28 1-2 grains to the dollar.

| | | Dwts. | grs. |

| The weight of | $1 00, is | 1 | 06 |
| do. | 500 00, is | 595 | 6 |

Doubloons, it will be observed, are received by the Banks at $14 60 each; but they are generally in such demand as to sell for at least $15 each, among Brokers and others, and are variable from this price to sixteen dollars each, but seldom command the latter price.

A TABLE

Of the true or standard weight of the Coins generally in circulation ; with the prices at which they are at all times current at the several Banks in the United States ; but frequently at a considerable premium in market.

THE MALTE-BRUN SCHOOL GEOGRAPHY AND ATLAS by the author of Parley's Geography for children—with nineteen Maps, Charts, and Tables, and one hundred and forty original engravings. The Maps engraved on Steel, are

1. Eastern States. 2. Middle States, Maryland and Virginia. 3. United States. 4. North America. 5. South America. 6. Atlantic Ocean, its Islands and Coasts. 7. Europe. 8. Africa. 9. Asia. 10. Pacific Ocean, its Islands and Coasts. 11. Western Hemisphere. 12. Eastern Hemisphere. 13. Northern Hemisphere. 14. Southern Hemisphere. 15. Height of the prineipal Mountains on the Globe. 17. Chart exhibiting the comparative extent of Oceans, Continents, Countries, Islands, Seas and Lakes. 18. Tabular views of Extent, Population, Canals, Roads, Indian Tribes, Universities, Missionary Stations, &c. 19. Picture of the world.

The foregoing book in its plan, embraces many points of originality, the most important of which are the following; viz.

The work is formed on the inductive plan of instruction. Instead of beginning with astronomy, and general views, the pupil begins at home ; studies first the geography of his own town, next of his own county, then of his own state and country ; and the whole is written in a style calculated to interest and fasten the attention of the learner.

Space will not allow of introducing the multitude of favorable notices, given the publishers, by the most intelligent teachers in the country.

From the Annals of Education, edited by the Rev. W. C. Woodbridge.

"This work exceeds any of the kind we have seen, in the beauty of its execution; the engravings, and the general appearance of the work, reflect the highest credit on the imagination and taste of the author, the skill of the designers and artists, and the enterprise of the publishers. We cordially wish success to this bold attack on the spirit of parsimony which spends without hesitation for the food which pampers the appetite, and the dress which cherishes the vanity of childhood, but almost refuses to pay for that neatness and beauty in a book of instruction which not only give a child equal pleasure, but promote his improvement and cultivate his taste."

---

PETER PARLEY'S GEOGRAPHY, for children—with nine Maps and seventy-five Engravings. This little work has in two years, passed through more than twenty editions ; this fact renders it wholly unnecessary for the publishers here to repeat the multitude of commendatory notices in evidence of its merits, but the following, from one of the American Missionaries in Greece, they cannot withhold. It is as unexpected as gratifying to them.

By the following extract of a letter from a gentleman now in Greece, the Rev. Mr. Temple, the Missionary, it appears that the popular Geography of Mr. Parley, is about to be introduced into that country.

"We have Peter Parley's Geography translated;—but I have not put it to press, because we want the cuts for it. There could scarcely be a better book on this subject for Greece, if we had all the cuts for the costumes of the different nations. I perceive that this little book has passed through seven editions in one year in the United States of America, and it well deserves its good reputation. Will not the Board, or some friend, procure for us all those cuts? If Mr. Peter Parley, (I know not who he is,) would make a donation of them, I should feel peculiarly happy in introducing him to more than 20,000 youths in the Greek nation, who would not fail to cherish for him more than ordinary reverence and gratitude."

We are happy to learn that the author has generously offered to make a donation of the cuts and plates, and that they will shortly be transmitted to Malta.

☞ To find the interest of any particular sum for any certain time, multiply the sum by the number of months, take one half of the product, and you will find the two right hand figures to be cents—the remainder, on the left hand are dollars, which is the answer. If there be cents, in the sum, after you have multiplied as above, you will find the two right hand figures to be fractions, the two next, cents, and the remainder in dollars.

VALUE OF GOLD COINS CONSIDERED AS BULLION.

American and Foreign Gold, being considered as Bullion, an estimate of its value may be made by calculating its worth at the following rates, being the standard valuation by the government to regulate the currency of foreign gold, in the United States, in conformity to Acts of Congress, passed 29th of April, A. D. 1816.

AMERICAN, ENGLISH AND PORTUGUESE GOLD.

The Gold Coin of America, Great Britain and Portugal, are all of the same standard, and are valued at 88, 89 and 100 cents to the Dwt. or at 27 grs. to the dollar; or

| | Dwts. | Grs. |
|---|---|---|
| The weight of one dollar is | 1 | 03 |
| do. 500 dollars | 562 | 12 |
| do. 10,000 dollars | 11,250 | 00 |

FRENCH GOLD.

The Gold Coin of France is valued at 87 1-4 cents the dwt. or 27 1-2 grains to the dollar; therefore

| | Dwts. | Grs. |
|---|---|---|
| The weight of one dollar, is | 1 | 04 |
| do. 500 dollars, is | 573 | 07 |
| do. 10,000 dollars, is | 11,461 | 08 |

SPANISH GOLD.

This coin is valued, agreeably to Acts of Congress at 84 cents to the dollar, or at 28 1-2 grains to the dollar.

| | Dwts. | Grs. |
|---|---|---|
| The weight of one dollar, is | 1 | 06 |
| do. 500 dollars, is | 595 | 6 |
| do. 10,000 dollars, is | 11,904 | 18 |

Doubloons, it will be observed, are received by the Banks at $14 60 each; but they are generally in such demand as to sell for at least $15 each among Brokers and others, and are variable from this price to sixteen dollars each, but seldom command the latter price.

A TABLE

Of the true or standard weight of the Coins generally in circulation; with the prices at which they are at all times current at the several Banks in the United States; but frequently at a considerable premium in market.

EVENTS.

The first settlers of Connecticut came from Massachusetts in the year 1635.

A constitution was formed in 1638, by the planters of Windsor, Hartford and Wethersfield. The General Assembly was composed of Deputies from those towns, and consisted of 12.

In 1639 the General Assembly defined and established the town privileges,and invested them with corporate and civil powers.

In 1638 the General Assembly of Connecticut recommended to the Clergy to interrogate and instruct all the youth in some orthodox catechism.

The Colony of New Haven was established shortly after Connecticut. The Rev. John Davenport preached his first sermon in 1638, under an oak tree, near the College Green.

The two Colonies were Consolidated under the Charter, 1662.

The State Laws of Connecticut were printed in 1670 ; and it was provided by law that every family should have a copy of them.

Yale College was chartered in Nov. 1701. The Rev. Abraham Pierson, first Rector. It commenced its career with less than a dozen scholars.

The Phi Beta Kappa Society, appertaining to Yale College, was instituted in Nov. 1780.

VALUE OF GOLD COINS CONSIDERED AS BULLION.

D. 1816.

AMERICAN, ENGLISH AND PORTUGUESE GOLD.

The Gold Coins of America, Great Britain and Portugal, are all of the same standard, and are valued at 88, 89 and 100 cents to the dwt. or at 27 grs. to the dollar; or

Doubloons, it will be observed, are received by the Banks at $14 60 each; but they are generally in such demand as to sell for at least $15 each, among Brokers and others, and are variable from this price to $16 dollars each, but seldom command the latter price.

BOTANY FOR BEGINNERS—an introduction to Mrs. Lincoln's Lectures on Botany, for the use of common schools and the younger pupils of higher schools and academies, by Mrs. Phelps, author of "Familiar Lectures on Botany," second edition, 1vol. 18mo.

FAMILIAR LECTURES ON BOTANY—by Mrs. Almira H. Lincoln, Vice-Principal of the Troy Female Seminary. Illustrated by 200 Engravings. Third Edition.

[From the Troy Sentinel.]

This work which has just been issued from the press, will be found a valuable accession to the circle of class-books for the higher schools of our country. The want of some work, more inviting and comprehensible than a dry exhibition of systematic Botany, but yet of convenient size, and adapted to the use of the uninitiated, has long been felt. This want is supplied by the work in question, in a manner highly creditable to the author and to the excellent institution with which she is connected. These lectures unite literary attraction with the accuracy of scientific description; and what has been very commonly regarded as a complicated, tedious and forbidding subject, is here presented in a method so judicious, well arranged and clear, as to render the study simple, easy and inviting.

The work exhibits not only the artificial system of Linnæus, according to which the study of Botany is usually pursued; but it presents also the natural orders of Linnæus and Jessieu; and besides teaching the analysis and classification of plants, it presents many very interesting views of vegetable physiology. Every thing is made so plain that the book is of itself, abundantly sufficient for teaching the science, without the aid of oral explanation; and on this account it is as happily adapted to popular use and to the solitary student, as it is to the use of schools; and we do not hesitate to recommend it, not merely to teachers, by occupation, but to all who wish to acquire clear ideas of this department of natural history; it is a work which should be in every private library as well as in every academy and high school.

THE AMERICAN PSALMODY—a collection of Sacred Music, comprising a great variety of Psalm and Hymn Tunes, Set Pieces, Anthems and Chants, arranged with a figured bass, for the Organ and Piano Forte, to which is prefixed, Elements of Musical Elocution, being a methodical arrangement of the principles of Vocal Music, by which the theory and practice of the art are made easily intelligible. Designed for the use of schools and private pupils—by E. Ives, Jr., and D. Dutton, Jr.

This work has the Chants for the Morning and Evening Service of the Church, and the only printed copy of Jackson's celebrated Chant of the TeDeum. 1vol. 8vo.

THE AMERICAN ELIMENTARY SINGING BOOK—designed as the first book for the study of Music, and introductory to the American Psalmody. 1vol. 18mo.

PETER PARLEY'S GEOGRAPHY,

AND

HISTORY OF THE WORLD.

FRANCIS J. HUNTINGTON, HARTFORD,

Publishes and keeps constantly for sale, the above pop lar little manuals of Geography and History, the o containing Nine Maps and seventy five Engraving the other seventy five Engravings. From the mul tude of exceedingly favorable notices which have be given them from all quarters of the country, the publi er selects the following. The notice was unaske either by the author or myself, and came to us whol unexpected.

From the Missionary Herald.

PARLEY'S GEOGRAPHY IN MODERN GREE

By the following extract of a letter from a gentlem now in Greece, the Rev. Mr. Temple, the Missiona it appears that the popular Geography of Mr. Pe Parley is about to be introduced into that country.

"We have Peter Parley's Geography translate but I have not put it to press, because we want the c for it. There could scarcely be a better book on t subject for Greece, if we had all the cuts for the c tumes of the different nations. I perceive that this tle book has passed through seven editions in one y in the United States of America, and it well deser its good reputation. Will not the Board, or so friend, procure for us all those cuts? If Mr. Pe Parley, (I know not who he is,) would make a donat of them, I should feel peculiarly happy in introduci him to more than 20,000 youths in the Greek nati who would not fail to cherish for him more than or nary reverence and gratitude."

We are happy to learn that the author has genero ly offered to make a donation of the cuts and plat and that they will shortly be transmitted to Malta.

☞ To find the interest of any particular sum for any certain time, multiply the sum by the number of months, take one half of the product and you will find the two right hand figures to be cents---the remainder, on the left hand are dollars, which is the answer. If there be cents in the sum, after you have multiplied as above, you will find the two right hand figures to be fractions, the two next cents, and the remainder in dollars.

FINANCES OF THE UNITED STATES.

Synopsis of the Report of the Secretary of the Treasury, on the Finances of the United States; December 1, 1834.

|---|---|
| The balance in the Treasury on 1st Jan. 1834, was | $11,702,905,31 |
| The receipts of the first three quarters, and the estimated receipts of the fourth quarter of 1834, are | 20,624,717,94 |
| Making an aggregate of | $32,327,623 25 |
| The expenditures of the year are estimated at | 25,591,390,91 |
| Which will leave a balance on the 1st Jan. 1835, of | $6,736,232,34 |
| From this sum however, must be deducted the amount of funds not available, estimated at | 1,150,000,00 |
| Leaving a real balance of | $5,586,232,31 |

In the estimates of the year, have been included, the remainder of the public debt which if not actually paid before the end of the year, has a fund prepared ready to meet it, so that on the 1st of January 1835, the entire public debt which in 1816, amounted to 123,000,000 dollars, will have been discharged

The estimates for the year 1835, are as follows:

| | | |
|---|---|---|
| Receipts from customs, | $16,000,000 | |
| Public lands, | 3,500,000 | |
| Bank dividends, and Miscellaneous receipts, | 500,000 | |
| | $20,000,000,00 | |
| Which added to the balance on 1st Jan. | | 5,586,232,34 |
| Will give as the total of means, | | $25,586,232 34 |
| Expenditures for the year, | | 19,683,541,52 |
| Leaving a probable balance on the 1st Jan. 1835 of | | $5,902,690,82 |

This estimate of receipts is formed on the supposition that the value of imports during the ensuing year, and especially of those paying duties, will not differ essentially from the average value during the last three years.

DESCRIPTION OF

GROTON MONUMENT.

[See the Frontispiece.]

This Monument was erected in the years 1830 and 1831, in commemoration of the brave patriots who fell in the massacre in Fort Griswold, Sept. 6, 1781.

It stands on the summit of the Hill 70 rods from the shore, near Fort Griswold, in Groton, on the East bank of the river Thames and directly opposite the centre of the city of New-London. The hill is one hundred and thirty feet above tide water, and rises gradually from the river. The foundation rises one foot above the surface, and is 26 feet square. The Base is 24 feet square, of large massy granite, with split faces, 3 feet high, each stone weighing 5 or 6 tons, laid in regular courses. The stylobation or Dye is 22 feet square, of similar stone in size and appearance, raised in regular courses or tiers, preserving a regular bond, 17 feet high, with an entablature of hewn stone, the architrave three feet face, and the cornice one foot face, extending on each side one foot beyond the dye, or 24 feet square, making the height from the ground 25 feet. On this cap is raised a square obelisk, 20 feet base, 92 feet high, and 10 feet at top, of large rough faced granite, laid in regular courses, preserving the bond line throughout, finished at the top with wide flat hewn stone, for a lookout, or place to stand on; this is secured by a stout iron railing, on the outer edge four feet high. On the top and in the centre of the obelisk is a frame of iron and copper, rising 6 feet above the iron railing, covered with thick Boston Glass as a sky light, lighting the inside of the building, which is round and conical. The ascent to the top, is by a set of stone steps, 168 in number, rising in spiral form, inserted in the inner wall, and secured at the other end by an iron railing and bannisters, leaving the centre hollow, to admit light from above, affording a safe, easy, and light passage to ascend.

On the top is a convenient door in the skylight, which admits passing out on the stone platform, two feet wide all around, between the iron railing and the skylight, furnishing spectators a safe, and convenient stand, from which to view the surrounding country.—On the south and west is presented the Ocean and Long Island Sound, with its shores and Islands, and on the north and east the country around. On three sides vision may be extended as far as the naked eye or a glass will reach ; and from the top is presented one of the most sublime and extensive prospects, that can be imagined ; it will amply repay the admirers of nature for the toil of ascending.

PETER PARLEY'S GEOGRAPHY,

AND

HISTORY OF THE WORLD.

---

FRANCIS J. HUNTINGTON, HARTFORD,

Publishes and keeps constantly for sale, the above popular little manuals of Geography and History, the one containing Nine Maps and Seventy-five Engravings, the other Seventy-five Engravings. From the multitude of exceedingly favorable notices which have been given them from all quarters of the country, the publisher selects the following. The notice was unasked, either by the author or myself, and came to us wholly unexpected.

From the Missionary Herald.

PARLEY'S GEOGRAPHY IN MODERN GREEK.

By the following extract of a letter from a gentleman now in Greece, the Rev. Mr. Temple, the Missionary, it appears that the popular Geography of Mr. Peter Parley is about to be introduced into that country.

"We have Peter Parley's Geography translated; but I have not put it to press, because we want the cuts for it. There could scarcely be a better book on this subject for Greece, if we had all the cuts for the costumes of the different nations. I perceive that this little book has passed through seven editions in one year in the United States of America, and it well deserves its good reputation. Will not the Board, or some friend, procure for us all those cuts? If Mr. Peter Parley, (I know not who he is) would make a donation of them, I should feel peculiarly happy in introducing him to more than 20,000 youths in the Greek nation, who would not fail to cherish for him more than ordinary reverence and gratitude."

We are happy to learn that the author has generously offered to make a donation of the cuts and plates, and that they will shortly be transmitted to Malta.

THE GEOGRAPHY OF THE HEAVENS, or familiar instructions for finding the visible Stars and Constellations, accompained by a celestial Atlas, imperial 4to. neatly colored. By E. H. Burritt, A. M.

Contents of the Atlas.

1. The visible heavens in October, November and December.
2. The visible heavens in Jan. Feb. and March.
3. The visible heavens in April, May and June.
4. The visible heavens in July, August and September.
5. The visible heavens in the north polar regions for each month in the year.
6. The visible heavens in the south polar regions for each month in the year.
7. Planisphere of the whole heavens on Mercator's Projection.

The second edition of the above, just published, contains a description of the Solar System, illustrated with engravings. The work is therefore one of the most interesting Elementary Treatises on Astronomy in use—1 vol. imperial 18mo.

BOTANY FOR BEGINNERS—an introduction to Mrs. Lincoln's Lectures on Botany, for the use of common schools and the younger pupils of higher schools and academies, by Mrs. Phelps, author of "Familiar Lectures on Botany," second edition, 1vol. 18mo.

FAMILIAR LECTURES ON BOTANY—by Mrs. Almira H. Lincoln, Vice-Principal of the Troy Female Seminary. Illustrated by 200 Engravings.—Third Edition.

[From the Troy Sentinel.]

This work which has just been issued from the press, will be found a valuable accesssion to the circle of class-books for the higher schools of our cuntry. The want of some work, more inviting and comprehensible than a dry exhibition of systematic Botany, but yet of convenient size, and adapted to the use of the uninitiated, has long been felt. This want is supplied by the work in question, in a manner highly creditable to the author and to the excellent institution with which she is connected. These lectures unite literary attraction with the accuracy of scientific description; and what has been very commonly regarded as a complicated, tedious and forbidding subject, is here presented in a method so judicious, well arranged and clear, as to render the study simple, easy and inviting.

The work exhibits not only the artificial system of Linnæus, according to which the study of Botany is usually pursued; but it presents also the natural orders of Linnæus and Jessieu; and besides teaching the analysis and classification of plants, it presents many very interesting views of vegetable physiology. Every thing is made so plain that the book is of itself, abundantly sufficient for teaching the science, without the aid of oral explanation; and on this account it is as happily adapted to popular use and to the solitary student, as it is to the use of schools; and we do not hesitate to recommend it, not merely to teachers, by occupation, but to all who wish to acquire clear ideas of this department of natural history; it is a work which should be in every private library as well as in every academy and high school.

THE AMERICAN PSALMODY—a collection of Sacred Music, comprising a great variety of Psalm and Hymn Tunes, Set Pieces, Anthems and Chants, arranged with a figured bass, for the Organ and Piano Forte, to which is prefixed, Elements of Musical Elocution, being a methodical arrangement of the principles of Vocal Music, by which the theory and practice of the art are made easily intelligible. Designed for the use of schools and private pupils—by E. Ives, Jr. and D. Dutton, Jr.

This work has the Chants for the Morning and Evening Service of the Church, and the only printed copy of Jackson's celebrated chant of the Te Deum. 1vol. 8vo.

THE AMERICAN ELEMENTARY SINGING BOOK—designed as the first book for the study of Music, and introductory to the American Psalmody. 1vol. 18mo,
